PLAYGROUNDS PET SHOW

The Paris playgrounds held their annual pet show Friday afternoon at the Paris City School. The first prize, an angel food cake, was awarded to Margaret Martin for the best exhibit which was a collie pup and a Penny sheepdog. The second prize, for the best trained animal was awarded to Dr. Milton J. Stern, who showed a canary that could "play dead," climb a ladder and fight like a real prizefighter. The third prize, for the most unique, was won by Mrs. E. P. Buck, who exhibited a Brazilian Cardinal.

Premiums were given for the following classes: Dogs—first, to Miss Lucy Simms, who showed a Highland terrier, which took the first place in a New York dog show among three thousand dogs; second, to Mrs. J. Stewart, for three Eskimo dogs; third to a Llewellyn setter, property of J. Simms Wilson; Cats—first, to Clay Rose; Ponies—first, to Billy Ardery, for a white Shetland pony, second, to Edna Ray Souseley; Guinea Pigs—first, to Hazel Bryan; Birds—first, to Mrs. Thompson H. Tarr, for parakeets, second, to Mrs. E. P. Buck, who exhibited roller canaries, third, to Jas. Wilson, for pigeons; Rabbits—first, to Lucy Jean Anderson, second, to Julian Howe, Jr.; Fowls—first, ducks owned by Martha Hall, second, white rooster, owned by Carolyn Bush.

Yutaki Minakuchi exhibited a chow dog that was quite a favorite, but which was not in the competition. Miss Miriam Galloway exhibited a pet alligator which held a large audience. Mrs. Rice displayed a bowl of beautiful imported gold fish.

The most important feature for the week will be the game between the Paris playground team and a picked team from Lexington, which will be played Thursday afternoon on Hancock Field. No admission will be charged and everyone is invited to witness the game. The girls team from the City School playgrounds will play the Brennan team Wednesday afternoon on the Brennan playground.

The class in raffia work has been started, and will meet each Monday Tuesday and Saturday afternoons. Anyone who wishes is invited to attend and learn how to make baskets.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN RENAKER MURDER CASE

Announcement was made early yesterday of a promising clue unearthed in the murder of Leon Renaker, prominent Winchester businessman, who was found dead in bed at his home last week with his skull crushed.

Detectives and local officers who have been working in the case said that during an examination in the rear of the Renaker home they found evidence which indicated that an automobile had been parked nearby. A little later Mrs. H. R. Prather told them that on the night on which Renaker had been slain she saw a roadster with two occupants leaving the vicinity. She also heard one of the persons in the machine say, "I have finished him," or "I have finished it," she was uncertain about the exact language.

The man who, it is said owns the roadster, has been questioned by the authorities.

Among other things he was asked to produce the handle to his automobile jack.

He is reported to have said that he had loaned it to two young men. This was on the theory that Renaker had been killed with the instrument, and that it had been carried away.

Another discovery which is regarded as important is the finding of a pair of trousers, which bear stains resembling blood, concealed in shrubbery at a point where the automobile apparently had been parked. The stains now are being subjected to a chemical examination to determine whether they are from blood or oil.

THE STRIKE SITUATION

All the principal points in dispute in the rail strike are left to the United States Railroad Labor Board to adjudicate.

This is the essence of the compromise settlement drafted by President Harding and informally approved by the spokesmen of the contending parties.

The President has won his point—the Labor Board's supremacy must be recognized by both railroads and workmen. The fact that both sides have seen fit in the past to disapprove the decisions of the Board is regarded as the best proof of its impartiality.

Governor Edwin P. Morrow, in an interview Saturday night emphatically stressed the fact that although Kentucky would at all times do all it could to help everybody in a threatened coal shortage, Kentucky and Kentucky industries would be taken care of first in the coal situation as it affects Kentucky mines.

"We have another consideration. We want to see, and I am interested in seeing, that while we are performing this general public service, we can and will take care of the public utilities in Kentucky and the companies that are engaged in the manufacture of the essentials and necessary commodities."

Leaders of the striking railway shopmen, returning from conferences with President Harding, expressed confidence that the walkout would be terminated as a result of meetings of railway executives and union committees this week to consider proposals submitted by President Harding. They also asserted that the strikers will return to work with their seniority rights unimpaired, if they return at all.

"I can't say a word, boys, not a single word," B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts organization, said on his arrival at Chicago. He refused to term the outlook hopeful or otherwise, but declared that it was safe to assume that the meeting of the shop crafts policy committee Tuesday was called to consider proposed plans for terminating the strike.

Settlement of the strike apparently rests with the decision of the railroad executives. While neither they nor the strike leaders have announced what stand will be taken on the President's peace program, union leaders are of the opinion that the plan will be accepted by the strikers.

Copies of the following circular were distributed on the streets of Paris Saturday afternoon:

"Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co. "Kentucky Division, July 29, 1922.

"To All Concerned:

"A number of shop employees now in the service and a number of other men who wish to take service with us are expressing the possibility of the seniority being interfered with on account of publications appearing in the newspapers.

"I am directed to announce that this company will undertake to protect the original seniority rights of all old employees who remained in the service when the strike was called, or who returned to service on July 6, upon its invitation, and that all other men entering the service since July 6, including those that take service from now on, will have their seniority rights protected from date they took service or from date they take service hereafter.

"W. E. HUNTER, Master Mechanic.
"H. FEATHER, Master Mechanic.
"Approved: J. A. MORRISON, Superintendent."

Peace terms already have been agreed to in the country-wide, rail way strike and formal ratification has been assured through President Harding's efforts, it was asserted by a man in close official touch with the situation.

All that now remains before the strike, which has cost the workers upwards of $40,000,000 in wages, passes into history, it was asserted, was the formal endorsement of the terms of settlement by the railway executives, meeting in New York, and the strike leaders who will convene in Chicago at the same hour.

"The acceptance of President Harding's proposal was a foregone conclusion before T. Dewitt Cuyler * * * issued the call for the meeting of the rail executives in New York and Bert Jewell, head of the striking shopmen, summoned a similar meeting of union chiefs for the same date," this man, who has been in closest touch with the entire situation, declared.

"The rail executives will finally decide to yield for the good of the country, sweeping aside the seniority issue," he continued, "but their gesture will give little consolation to the men who walked out on July 1, for besides their loss in pay, they will lose some of their seniority rights to the men who remained at work, see their original grievances returned to the United States Railroad Labor Board for rehearing and the question of a national adjustment board and certain other points taken up by congress."

HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Dr. John L. Phythian, of Newport, well-known surgeon, who served in the Medical Corps in France with the American forces; his wife, Mrs. Margaret Roche, Phythian, daughter of Mrs. Thos. F. Roche, of Paris, and Sarah Dempsey, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dempsey, of Newport, were injured in Newport when an automobile in which they were coming to Paris was demolished when it ran into a telephone pole in an effort to avoid colliding with another car.

Dr. and Mrs. Phythian and little Miss Dempsey were thrown from the car. Mrs. Phythian sustained a fracture of the right arm, Dr. Phythian was severely bruised about the body and the little girl sustained minor bruises about the head and body.

A report from Newport stated that all the injured ones were recovering. The little child is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Dempsey, of Paris, and was accompanying Dr. and Mrs. Phythian to Paris for a visit.

BURNED BY GASOLINE EXPLOSION

Clyde Richard, of the J. T. Hinton Co., sustained severe burns about the body and hands by an explosion of gasoline at the Hinton Garage, on High street, Friday.

Richards was engaged in cleaning a motor car with gasoline, when the fluid became ignited, the resultant explosion throwing the flaming fluid over his body. He ran into the street, where he was caught by two other employees of the garage, and rolled in the dust until the flames were extinguished. He was hurried to the office of Dr. J. M. Williams, where his injuries were treated. He will be unable to resume his duties for several weeks.

not be known until after Tuesday's meetings, but whatever they are the objections of a minority on either side will not be sufficiently strong to obstruct or prevent their ratification by both sides. The seniority issue has been reached since the beginning of the strike, it must be remembered, and it is not as great a stumbling block as it has seemed at times. When the time comes it will be disposed of with justice to all and to the satisfaction of the great majority of workers.

HON. J. CAMPBELL CANTRILL IN CAMPAIGN

In this issue of THE NEWS Hon. James Campbell Cantrill, present incumbent, presents to the voters of Bourbon county his claims to renomination to the office of Congressman from the Seventh Kentucky District.

Mr. Cantrill has during his term of office demonstrated his efficiency, and fitness for the responsible office, and no man in the district has a larger following of warm friends. He has been a consistent and hard-working friend of the tobacco people, and in fact, all others in the district, and should receive a larger vote than ever, to attest the faith of the people in his work. His opponent is R. E. Lee Murphy, Lexington attorney, whom he defeated decisively several years ago.

"HUSH MONEY" A LAVISH PRODUCTION

Alice Brady, by many screen enthusiasts voted the best dressed star in motion pictures, has ample opportunity to wear smart raiment in "Hush Money," the new picture in which she will be seen at the Alamo and Paris Grand, Wednesday afternoon and night.

She has the role of the daughter of the biggest man in Wall Street, and needless to say, she neglects none of her sartorial opportunities. The picture, which has been lavishly produced, is a Samuel Marwin story directed by Charles Maine.

EDITORIAL FLINGS

"Speak gently to the erring one," The good old proverb said, Then having done so take a club And crack him on the head.

After abolishing the death-trap grade crossings wouldn't it be a wise provision to abolish the public road that is too narrow for vehicles to pass without endangering life and property?

A Henderson man had his wife arrested on the charge that she had seven other husbands besides himself. We cannot find it in our heart to blame the man for seeking divorce, because, as Artemus Ward would say, "he was confronted with too much."

'Tis the last drink of liquor Left standing alone; All its lonely companions Have faded and gone. He saved it for illness, But gloom gathers thick, He eyes that last drink And feels pretty sick.

Efficient service means to be tactful; to do things graciously and do them well. It is a part of the science of service to do business in a way that will leave the cleanest impression. Courtesy is one of the finest business assets in the world, and the man or woman who is ill-tempered and grouchy in business soon finds that business melting away from them. This is an unalterable fact, but some business people never seem to realize it, much to their own loss.

A Paris youngster and his best girl joyrided out the Lexington pike a few nights ago. She was inclined to be just a trifle peevish. "Why do you turn out for every road hog who comes along?" she asked. "The right of way is yours." "Certainly," the young fellow replied. "but my reason is suggested by an epitaph I saw the other day:

"Here lies the body of Bill Jay, Who died maintaining his right of way; He was right, dead right, as he sped along,

But he's just as dead as if he'd been wrong."

That settled the argument and peace was restored.

One of our good friends told us the following story, which is one of the best we have heard for a long time: "The last dance that was held in Paris was attended by two young boys from the county, who are as well-known socially as their fathers are in a business way. These two young fellows had a corking good time at the dance, but managed to get hold of some of the peculiar brand of 'hootch' that makes a fellow do some funny stunts. As they were uncertainly flitting their way home in the early hours of the morning following the dance, one of them, whom we will call Bill, said to his companion, "Shay, buddies, I wanhyu the varry cah'ful how yu drive long this pike. Firsing yu known y'll have us in de ditch." Buddie gazed stupidly and astoundedly at his companion who had reached the mudding stage, and blurted out:

"Whutthat yo're saying, feller? H—l, why, young, feller, doncher-kno I thought yu was drivin."

We could name a man for Governor, who would be a winner, and not disturb any gray matter in our cranium, but we don't want to get ahead of any of the members of the State Press Association, and, besides, we are very modest.

If a graduate of any High School in the State wants to become a teacher in the public schools, he must take a four-year college course to earn a salary of $77 a month, when a man without an education and driving a milk wagon in the city gets $132 a month. A case of muscle vs. brain—and muscle gets the best pay.

PARIS PEOPLE ALWAYS IN LIMELIGHT

Bourbon county's older element, and, in fact, those who have lived in the Bluegrass region during the last twenty-five or thirty years, and still speak familiarly of Mrs. Wm. Miller Graham, as "Birdie Pollock, of Paris," will be interested in the following item which recently appeared in the New York Town Topics:

"Most refreshing is the knowledge that Mrs. William Miller Graham and Miss Geraldine are home again—I refrain from saying 'fascinating, 'beautiful,' etc., concerning the latter, for the world has been 'told' so often regarding the young lady's charms that such adjectives no longer count for anything. After their trip around the world, or practically so, the clever Californian and her daughter must be glad to taste the more prosaic joys of home and Santa Barbara, even if there be in the offing no Jimmy Van Alen, no Lady Willingdon, and no Prince of Wales.

"Mrs. Graham is certainly a good friend to the press, and what thrilling reading it made to see in the papers such cables as 'Mrs. Miller Graham engaged to James J. Van Alen.' Miss Geraldine Graham engaged to Prince of Wales, 'Mrs. Miller Graham and daughter seeing India with Prince of Wales, etc. I have long suspected that Mrs. Graham was coming more and more to regard Santa Barbara and Villa Belleguardo as a bit provincial in view of all the 'brilliant victories' the Western papers have ascribed to her in Eastern society. Now that she has made what we are told was more or less of a triumphal progress around the globe, isn't it possible that she will feel less satisfied than ever with the West and make another attempt at Gotham?

"When the Whitney Warren-Geraldine Graham engagement was broken early last year no one felt more regret than I, even though I had known from the first of formidable obstacles to the match. Nor does it strike me as plausible supposition that a renewal of the romance is in the wind as some think, reasoning from Whitney's expectation of going to San Francisco to take part in a musical production. However, I cannot yet believe that the metropolis has seen the last of so ambitious and resourceful a person as Mrs. Miller Graham, even though she seemed to want to avoid it en route home from abroad. The old curiosity shop she is said to be about to open in the California city will not serve to occupy the energetic lady long, unless all signs fail, for who can conceive of her growing old and being content to sit by the fire and spin? Perish the thought."

BEBE DANIELS IN "THE SPEED GIRL"

Every kind of speed—on a sidewalk scooter, on horseback, in fast motor cars on land, in faster planes in the air—is used to illustrate the theme of Bebe Daniels' newest Real picture. "The Speed Girl," by Elmer Harris, which comes to The Alamo and Grand Thursday afternoon and night.

Fortunately, the feature has for its star one of the most versatile girls in pictures. Miss Daniels has been brought up an outdoor girl. Dedicated from her youth to the business of entertaining the public, she has had to learn to ride, to drive a car, to dive, swim, shoot, fish and play every sort of game.

"He is the age of speed," says Miss Daniels. "In their entertainment, their sports, their business, even in their love affairs, it seems the American, man, woman and child demands ever a swifter pace. 'Make it snappy—get there!' is the universal cry."

MILLERSBURG CASHIER RESIGNS POSITION

Sanford M. Allen, of Millersburg, one of the best-known financiers in the county, has resigned his position as Cashier of the Millersburg Farmers Bank, on account of continued ill-health. Homer Kirby, of Bowling Green, has been elected to succeed Mr. Allen. Mr. Kirby has been connected with the Bowling Green and Woodbine banks for many years, and comes highly recommended. James Ellington, who has also been connected with the bank, has also tendered his resignation, to take effect Aug. 15, when he will go to Huntington, West, Va., to take a position in a bank.

BLUEGRASS SEED POOL IS ASURED

The Bluegrass Seed Growers' Cooperative Association, which was formally launched in Lexington several weeks ago, has made a contract with several cleaning firms, among them Spears &amp; Sons, Brent &amp; Co., J. S. Wilson &amp; Bro., Paris; David Guy, of Winchester, and Peppard &amp; Co., of Missouri, to clean and store the 1922 crop of blue grass seed, according to announcement made by a member of the organization.

Attorney Dwight L. Pendleton, of Winchester, drew the contract for the new association, which modeled after the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association contract and in accord with the provisions of the Bingham law, and reports from the blue grass producing counties are to the effect that it is being generally signed by the growers of Kentucky and Missouri. More than 60 per cent. of the growers it is stated, have already signed for the contract which insures the success of the pool. The new contract calls for a directorate of twelve members and an executive committee of five members, which now have control of the machinery set in motion for the pooling and marketing of the seed.

HELL TO PAY IF MAN GIVES WAY TO WOMAN

Taking Paul's first epistle to Timothy as his guide, Wilbur Glenn Voliva, leader of the Zionist sect at Zion, Ill., denounced women Senators, or women in office of any kind, whereby she has authority over man. Quoting, "but I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence." Voliva says:

"If there is any place on God's earth that a woman ought not to be it is in the United States Senate. I am opposed to a woman running for any office. The word of God foretells that in the days of decadence the nations will be ruled by women and children. God Almighty never made a woman the head of a house."

"Whenever a woman usurps the man's place you will have Hell to pay! If my wife ran for office I would run for the lake."

NEW MOVE IN HARKNESS CASE

Another step in the litigation over the compromise made in 1916 of the back tax cases against the L. V. Harkness estate, was taken Tuesday when an appeal from the judgment of the Fayette Circuit Court was filed in the Court of Appeals at Frankfort by the commonwealth.

The case involves several hundred thousand dollars claimed to be due the States for the five years preceding 1915. The suit was originally brought by T. E. Coyne, revenue agent for the State at Large, and the appeal was filed by Franklin, Talbot &amp; Chapman, of Paris, and Lexington, attorneys, representing the Commonwealth in the appeal.

Taxes on approximately $70,000,000 for the five year period prior to 1916 are involved in the suit, according to attorneys for the Commonwealth. Taxes on $20,000,000 were collected in 1916 as a result of a compromise settlement of a suit brought by T. C. Bradley, then sheriff of Fayette county, seeking to collect taxes for the five years prior to the death of L. V. Harkness.

The State and Fayette county received $240,000 in taxes as a result of that compromise settlement. T. E. Coyne, revenue agent-at-large for the State, brought suit in the Fayette county court to set aside the judgment of that court in the compromise case. After extensive pleadings had been filed County Judge F. A. Bullock set aside his previous judgment in the case.

If the Court of Appeals should reverse the Fayette Circuit Court in the case and decide that the State is entitled to collect taxes on an additional valuation of the estate, the case would come back to Fayette county court for the purpose of establishing the taxable value of the estate during the five years just prior to Mr. Harkness' death, which is as far back as the statute of limitations will permit the Commonwealth to go.

A BIT OF ADVICE

First — Don't Delay. Second — Don't Experiment

If you suffer from backache; headaches or dizzy spells; if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. In such cases the kidneys often need help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Paris residents desire more convincing proof of their effectiveness than the statement of a Paris citizen who has used them and willingly testifies to their worth?

Mrs. J. N. Reynolds, 255 Winchester street, Paris, says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to do me more good than any remedy I have ever used and I recommend them highly. I suffered from rheumatic pains and kidney trouble. I could always tell when the weather was going to change as my limbs became painful. I got dizzy especially when I first got up in the morning and my kidneys were not acting regularly. I was not long in getting relief after I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and felt better in every way after taking them."

HOW AND WHY, NOT WHAT

Several young ladies who nightly follow the profession of terpsichoreans were arrested the other afternoon for appearing on the Chicago beach in one-piece bathing suits. Before the court they offered the defense of being no less properly garbed than young women on the stage, those engaged in aquatic contests or those appearing on the screen.

This apparently sound defense is based on a false analogy. The young ladies fail to make the distinction between the impersonal activities of the stage, the athletic necessities of the swimming tank and too commonly ultra-personal character of life at the beach. People go to a show to see the performance, they go to a swimming race to watch the competition, and they should go to the beach to swim.

Plenty of persons before now have pointed out that the important thing is less what you wear than how and why you wear it, and we believe it so. The defense of the young ladies in question was beside the mark. They would have done better to produce witnesses who must have observed their excellent behavior on the lake shore.

Judge rules it no crime to play a grind organ on Sunday. It is a crime to play one any time.

Sometimes a woman marries a man to have something to lean on, and then goes and sits down on him.

THREE ROADS PUT EMBARGO IN EFFECT

Three coal carrying railroads, the Norfolk & Western, Chesapeake & Ohio and Louisville & Nashville, have declared embargoes over their lines against the acceptance of any freight except foodstuffs, live stock and fuel.

The actions were taken under the Interstate Commerce Commission declaration of an emergency which authorized roads embarrassed by the shopmen's strike to show preference and established priority in transportation.

The object of the embargoes is to conserve all the equipment and facilities for the three carriers for the transportation of coal. The roads serve the nonunion bituminous mining areas south of the Ohio river which have furnished most of the country's coal output since April 1, when the miners struck in all the unionized fields and officials have declared that the tieup on their lines indicated railroad unions were working with the miners to stop production of soft coal. All three had been carrying record-breaking quantities of coal until the shopmen went out, after which their tonnage was immediately cut in half.

The Louisville & Nashville lines serve Kentucky coal fields which have been the principal source of coal supply since the strike for Chicago and other middle west points. The obstructions to the movement of coal over this system placed by the rail strike were considered largely responsible for a runaway coal market immediately created in that territory.

STANFILL IN SERVICE PENDING LAWSUIT

W. C. Stanfill, formerly of Paris, conductor of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad on the Knoxville Division, who is suing to retain his seniority right, will be permitted to continue in service and accept a run allotted to him without affecting his seniority standing until the pending case comes up for final hearing before Chancellor Davis Edwards, in Louisville, October 3.

The suit involves a rule governing assignment of conductors to duty and the petition alleges that under this rule the conductors are privileged to choose their own runs according to length of service.

This, Stanfill contends, has been denied him and the agreed order entered, permits him to continue in service without affecting the merits of the suit before the court.

AFTER THE RECKLESS

Virginia is trying out a new law and one that is going to be watched with close interest. It provides that every autoist, on approaching a railroad crossing outside the corporate limits of a town or city must come to full stop not less than ten feet nor more than 100 feet from the nearest rail. Failure to observe this law is punishable by a fine of $10, and the money collected goes into the treasury of the county in which the fine was assessed. We believe auto drivers around Paris are as careful as can be found anywhere, and yet many of them take unnecessary chances at railroad crossings. They will not endorse the Virginia law, of course, because it means stopping and starting the auto more times than they are compelled to do now. But we believe that those who realize that it is better to stop for a minute than to get ground up and stop forever, will declare that the law seems to possess considerable merit.

CIGARS FORTY-TWO YEARS OLD

(Harrodsburg Democrat)

A box of cigars forty-two years old was discovered by Lee Spencer when the property adjacent to the Anderson National Bank, Lawrenceburg, was being remodeled for Brunk Brothers. The building had been occupied by a grocery store. The box containing the cigars, which were branded "Bull of the Woods," was found under the ceiling.

The revenue stamp bore the date of 1880. The cigars were well preserved and of a good quality of tobacco.

They are long filler cigars, and were high priced smokers, forty years ago, retailing for 5 cents each.

To Democratic Voters of Bourbon County

I have an opponent in the Congressional primary to be held on Saturday, August 5th. I am deeply grateful to those who supported me in my past races. I have faithfully tried to attend promptly to the business of the District and to advocate those policies which are best for our State and nation.

IF ELECTED AGAIN I PLEDGE THE PEOPLE OF THIS GREAT DISTRICT TO STRIVE HARD TO PROVE WORTHY OF THEIR CONFIDENCE.

I have always loyally supported the policies of the Wilson Administration. The Nation enjoyed eight years of wonderful prosperity under the last Democratic administration and we want to return to the paths laid out by President Wilson. The prospect for Democratic victory is very bright in the Nation. I WILL GREATLY APPRECIATE YOUR SUPPORT IN THE St. Peter's Episcopal church will hold its annual picnic Wednesday at the farm of A. P. Adair, near Paris. They will leave the church at 9:30 a.m.

Nearly all the business houses of Carlisle are closing every afternoon from 2:30 to 4:00 so the employees may attend the revival meeting being conducted by Rev. Arthur Fox, of the Paris Baptist church, in a large tent in the court house yard. The tent is crowded at each meeting, and a number of converts have been received.

The pulpit of the Paris Presbyterian church was occupied Sunday morning and evening by Rev. Shoemaker, of Columbia, Mo., in two interesting services. Rev. T. S. Smiley, the pastor, who recently underwent a throat and nose operation, at the Massie Memorial Hospital, is again at home, improving slowly.

The forty hours devotion closed at the Church of the Annunciation, in this city Sunday night, with services of an unusually impressive character. During the devotional period Father Wm. O'Hara, was assisted by the following visiting priests: Rev. Fathers Thos. Coleman, of Ludlow, former pastor of the church; Klosterman, of Frankfort; Carroll, of Cynthiana; Poole, of Lexington; Perry, of Georgetown, and Deimart, of St. Mary's College, at St. Mary's, Ky. All the services were highly interesting and most impressive.

The reception was an informal one, members of the Commandery and their wives assisting in receiving and entertaining their guests. Refreshments were served through the evening, and dancing was indulged in from 8:30 to 1:00 p.m. Music for the dancers was furnished by Bishop's Orchestra.

Among the distinguished guests present were: Right Eminent Grand Commander Sir M. H. H. Davis, guest of honor; Right Eminent Past Grand Commander Sir Joseph Hedges Ewalt; Right Eminent Sir John G. Cramer, of Lexington; Eminent Sir Richard French, of Montgomery Commandery No. 5, of Mt. Sterling; Eminent Sir Samuel Metcalfe, of Frankfort Commandery No. 4.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

The last will and testament of the late Harry Stamler, who died in this city recently, has been admitted to probate in the County Court before Judge George Batterton. Mr. Stamler leaves his entire estate, real, personal and mixed, to his widow, Mrs. Gertrude Stamler. Mrs. Stamler qualified as executrix of the estate, giving bond without surety, the will dispensing with same.

Oscar R. Rankin qualified as administrator of the estate of Ida Johnson, deceased, furnishing bond with M. Peale Collier as surety.

Judge Denis Dundon is acting County Judge in the absence of County Judge George Batterton, who has gone to Rochester, Minn., with his father, Mr. B. A. Batterton, who will undergo treatment at the Mayo Bros.' Hospital.

Henry Washington, a colored boy, serving a six-months' term at hard labor for the alleged stealing of a bicycle from a young son of City Foreman Fred Fister, escaped from his guard, but returned yesterday morning and surrendered to Jailer James E. Taylor.

Sheriff M. Peale Collier and Deputy James Gibson and Robert M. Gilkey, while in the vicinity of a colored picnic near North Middletown, Saturday, ran into a crap game in progress near the grounds, and arrested seven of the eleven men in the game. In searching the participants Deputy Sheriff Gibson came across two quarts of moonshine in the pockets of a coat lying on the ground. The men disclaimed ownership of the coat or the liquor. The men will be given a hearing before Acting Judge Dundon.

In the County Court, Saturday, Garret Jackson was placed under $100 bond to keep the peace for one year. Jackson was arrested on a charge of threatening to do his wife great bodily harm.

Henry Sledd, who was arrested Thursday night on a charge of assaulting with intent to kill I. W. Bush, Paris representative of The Lexington Herald, through his attorney, Judge Denis Dundon, waived examining trial when arraigned before Judge George Batterton, in the County Court, and was held to the grand jury in $1,000 bond.

Twelve innings were required to decide the question as to who would win the game at Mt. Sterling, Saturday between the Mt. Sterling and Paris teams in the Bluegrass League series. The game was an exciting and close one from start to finish. Wills worked on the mound for Paris until the eighth inning, when, after Mt. Sterling had hit his delivery for three runs, he gave way to Parsons, who pitched the rest of the game. The feature of the game was the all-round fielding of Cicona, of the Paris team, who also figured in the home run column. The batteries were: Wills, Parsons and Macke, for Paris; Nefrey and Lackey, for Mt. Sterling. The game, which went three hours, was umpired by Wells and Brown.

Paris took the long end of the score, 9 to 4, in the game at Cynthiana last Thursday. Inability of the Cynthiana batsmen to hit in pinches cost the Cynthiana team the game. Cynthiana had sixteen men left on bases. In the eighth inning, when the bases were filled, Cicona, of the Paris team, lined out a hit which was stretched into a home run, bringing the three runners ahead of him. Cicona was given an ovation by the Paris fans, who were there in numbers. Wills featured for Paris in an unassisted double play. The batteries were: For Paris, Miner and Brockman, for Cynthiana, Long, Padgett, McIlvaine and Willie. Coyle, former Paris star, played with the Cynthiana team against his former teammates, but did not shine particularly. The game, which went two hours, was umpired by Bob Spade. A large crowd of Paris fans attended the contest.

All the home teams in the Blue Grass League lost Saturday, and they all won Sunday. Which doesn't mean anything except that maybe that is the reason Cynthiana won't play at home on Saturdays.

Paris fans have small reason to seek comfort for the Mammoths in the showing they made against Mt. Sterling in Sunday's game at Mt. Sterling. The game was one to be forgotten as soon as possible. Mt. Sterling knocked Miner out of the box, and defeated the Mammoths by a score of 6 to 2. Harrison twirling for Mt. Sterling, kept the Paris hits well scattered, and but for an error and Cicona's lucky double, would have had a shut-out to his credit. Wilber featured for Mt. Sterling. Miner, twirling for Paris, walked nine Mt. Sterling batsmen before he was taken out in the ninth inning. Mt. Sterling had thirteen men left on bases. The batteries were: For Paris—Miner, Wills, Marks and Macke; for Mt. Sterling—Harrison and Lackey. The game, which went two hours, was umpired by Walls.

Paris has signed a new pitcher, Walter Marks, of Harlan, Ky., a good right hand slab artist. Marks made his debut in the Mt. Sterling-Paris game Sunday, but was relieved after one inning. He may show better advantage in future games.

Paris and Mt. Sterling will play an exhibition game to-day on the latter's grounds. Many cynical fans in Paris have been heard to remark that the teams played an "exhibition" of how not to play ball Sunday. It is broadly asserted that unless certain member of the Paris club improves in his work there is likely to be something in the way of a release coming to him. The fans are growing suspicious, and the many ugly rumors in circulation, if based on anything like a semblance of fact, are enough to make them "sore."

The Methodist team defeated the Baptists in the game in the Church League series, played on Hancock Field, Friday afternoon, by the score of 11 to 8. The Methodist team is now in first place, with a percentage of .700. The next game in the series will be played on Hancock Field, this (Tuesday) afternoon, between the Methodists and Christians.

The Escondida team defeated the Black's Cross Roads team by a score of 5 to 3, in a game played Sunday afternoon on the local grounds.

CUT THE WEEDS

There is a statute requiring that all weeds along the county's thoroughfares be cut. Some of our good farmers are overlooking this. It should be done. It will beautify your farm and may perhaps help to sell it for you. Weeds in the city in many places are unsightly and should be cut. What's become of our boastful civic pride?

NOTICE TO PASTORS

The ministers of the churches in Paris and the county are requested to send to THE NEWS by noon on Thursday of each week their church notices for publication in Friday's NEWS. It is the earnest desire of THE NEWS to publish the announcements of the city and county churches, and the co-operation of the pastors is urged. We want to make our religious column complete and up-to-date.

County Clerk Pearce Paton calls attention of election officers to the fact that the new State election law requires that the clerk of each election precinct call at the office of the County Clerk to qualify for that office, receive the key to the booth and paraphernalia used in the election.

The office will be ready to do this work two days before the election, and all clerks should call either Thursday or Friday in order to be prepared for the work on Saturday, August 5. During the past few years, Mr. Paton said, the County Clerk has been in the habit of distributing the ballot boxes, books and all other supplies to be used in connection with the primary at the booths at considerable expense to the county.

CHEAP ROADS MOST EXPENSIVE

The new Federal aid highway bill recently signed by President Harding, and providing $190,000,000 for highway construction during the three years starting July 1, last, indirectly inflicts a penalty on the community that builds cheap and costly-to-maintain pavements on important thoroughfares.

The federal money is distributed to the various States with the understanding that each State will match its quota, dollar for dollar. The government, through the Bureau of Public Roads, Department of Agriculture, not seeking to dictate what type of pavement shall be constructed in any given community, specifies that the type of surface must be adequate for the traffic anticipated.

However, the government does insist on protecting its investment by providing that the various States, out of their own pocket, must keep all federal aid roads in good condition of repair. If this is not done, the government will itself maintain any road not properly maintained and will deduct the cost from the State's federal aid allotment.

Highway engineers point out that the community which devotes its quota of federal aid to constructing the less durable pavement types will, within a few years, be greatly burdened by heavy annual repair and maintenance costs. This maintenance henceforth can not be neglected as it too often has been in the past.

The community which builds pavements that, while costing a little more at first, will last so much longer and not call for constant and costly repairing, will escape the penalties of heavy maintenance charges and early reconstruction costs.

The Bureau of Public Roads, using its observations of the behavior of pavements under heavy motor truck traffic as a basis, has carefully listed pavement types in order of their durability. Starting with the most durable the list includes:

Vitrified brick, sheet asphalt, cement concrete, bituminous concrete, bituminous macadam, surface treated macadam, waterbound macadam, gravel macadam, gravel and sand clay.

DEMOCRATIC FEUDS IN KENTUCKY COUNTIES

(Owensboro Messenger)

In several large Democratic counties in Kentucky party feuds have grown up largely as a result of domination of a faction within the party. Party nominees have been chosen from a faction rather than from the body of the party as a whole. For years this plan succeeded because of the strength of the faction and the crack of the party whip. Each local election, however, has left the party organization weaker, and in some instances has shown a complete party reversal.

A notable example of factional domination has long been seen in county of Logan, in the Third Congressional District. The powerful organization known as the Rhea faction has long dominated the Democratic party. It is said that a man had to swear allegiance to the Reheas if he aspired to hold office in Logan county. The bitterness engendered by the factional feud grew to such proportions that a man and his wife, who published a paper in Russellville, were arrested for libel of Circuit Judge Rhea, and the Judge in turn was arrested charged with sending an obscene letter through the mails to one of the editors.

Thus Logan county, which has always been a Democratic stronghold, had its majority materially reduced, and was no longer to be counted on to roll up a good party vote.

Recent developments indicate that the old feud is being wiped out, and that the Logan Democrats are getting together again. The Russellville Messenger, long the leader in the anti Rhea faction, publishes a story tending to show that with the advent of a new Circuit Judge and wiping out of the old scores, a new era is dawning in the county. Comment on the administration of Judge Mallory, the Messenger says:

"A new atmosphere has been created and respect for the court is being restored. Without it the court is impotent. The Circuit Judge is the mainspring to all law enforcement, and the administration of public justice without fear, favor or affection, will go many miles toward our relief."

TIME LIMIT AUG. 9, FOR DISABILITY CERTIFICATES

The time limit for securing certificates of disability for men disabled in the world war and discharged before August 9, 1921, expires August 9, 1922. Such a certificate is of primary importance to those men discharged with a disability or who developed a disability within one year from date of discharge which is traceable to army service, but which is not serious enough to be a handicap or is not 10 per cent extent and therefore not subject to compensation.

This certificate is a protection to such a man should his disability prove more serious in the future. It will prove his right to compensation and treatment under the United States Veteran's Bureau. Since there is no indication that the time will be extended all ex-service men who are interested in such certificates should consult Miss Inez Caudill, Red Cross Secretary for Bourbon county, at the office of the Paris Commercial Club, immediately and have their claims filed.

COMMITTING MATRIMONY

(Courier-Journal)

Not long ago a gay old bachelor of Rome, whose brief illness was attributed to his going to the races despite the rain, and despite having forgotten to take an umbrella or a raincoat when he set out, died in his middle nineties. He was quoted as having attributed his exceptionally long life to his wisdom. He was wise enough not to marry.

Sir Harry Poland, who has practiced law in London seventy-one years, is quoted by the Times, at 94, as saying: "I never committed matrimony. That is why I am alive today."

Cynical sayings of bachelors who are beyond 90 give fillip to their views of life and how it should be lived, but the cynical bachelor is not wholly convincing.

"Uncle John" Shell, of Kentucky, may not have been 134 when he died, but he had a son nearly as old as Sir Harry Poland.

"Uncle John" committed matrimony early in life, and through life was a marrying man.

EROSION IS BIG CAUSE OF PLANT FOOD LOSSES

Erosion is the greatest single cause of fertility losses in Kentucky soils, according to a new circular entitled, "Soil Erosion," which is being distributed by the College of Agriculture to interested persons and farmers. How to prevent soil erosion, therefore, is a problem of prime importance to farmers of the State, the new publication points out.

"Practically the whole area of Kentucky is more or less rolling," the publication continues. "When ever there is enough slope to land for surface runoff of the rainfall, washing will occur unless the soil is protected by some form of vegetation. Much erosion takes place in the form of uniform sheet washing and often is unobstructed for a long time. Observation will show that on nearly all lands that are cultivated regularly without proper protection by cover crops, even very gentle slopes are 'thinner' and redder or lighter in color than the adjacent level lands. On the whole, this form of washing does far greater damage than the gullying of lands."

Sheet erosion and gullying are the two general types of erosion, the former being the more or less uniform washing of the soil without the distinct formation of gullies, while gullying in a large measure is prevented by the control of sheet erosion.

The most effective means of preventing sheet erosion is to keep the ground well covered with some kind of growth, while gullying is best stopped by means of plowing in, staking in, checking over-falls, woven wire obstructions, combining tiling and staking, earth dams or planting the gullies with sweet clover or grass. Detailed descriptions of how to stop sheet erosion as well as free by asking the Experiment Station at Lexington for Circular No. 129.

It also contains detailed information concerning the construction of terraces, together with other information designed to be of help to farmers who have an erosion problem on their farm. It may be obtained free by asking the Experiment Station at Lexington for Circular No. 129.

RARE BOOK PRESENTED TO NATIONAL MUSEUM

Through the courtesy of Mr. Gabriel Wells, of New York, a rare copy of the Gutenberg Bible, which is his, is now on temporary exhibition at the National Museum in Washington.

Gutenberg invented the art of printing from movable type. Prior to his time printing was done from carved wooden blocks, on which was everything which appeared on a page. Gutenberg invented the three essentials of modern printing, changed only in details since his day in the early part of the fifteenth century. These three things, type, mold from which the type is cast, and matrix, from which the mold is made, have had more powerful influence upon the world than any other invention or discovery ever made. Through them all knowledge is spread; through printing the Bible has become the world's book. Through printing has education of the masses been accomplished; through printing has civilization displaced barbarism, and knowledge taken the place of ignorance and superstition. It is printing which has caused the downfall of tyranny, material and spiritual; printing which brought the ideals of liberty, fraternity, equality, toleration, education, and freedom to a world once divided between oppressors and the oppressed.

Gutenberg printed the first Bible ever formed, except by hand or in abbreviated form, from carved wooden blocks. The Gutenberg Bible, now valued at from fifty to a hundred thousand dollars a copy, is far more than a Bible. To-day most beautiful Bibles can be bought for a few cents; to-day we have penny newspapers and ten cent magazines, books for half a dollar, and libraries of them free to millions of people. They are all children of the Gutenberg Bible; all fruit of the mind of the humble mechanic of five hundred years ago, whose influence has changed a world to its betterment as no other man, save Christ, has ever changed it.

Mildred had lived all her five eventful years in the city, and so on her first visit to the country everything was strange and interesting to her, but nothing seemed to fascinate her as did drawing water from the open well. As it went out of sight she ran screaming to her mother: "Oh, mamma, mamma; my dolly fallen in the—in the faucet."

IS UNITED STATES TO FACE LABOR SHORTAGE?

According to figures of the Department of Labor, the United States may shortly face a labor shortage, its unemployment problem completely solved.

Director General Jones of the Employment Service, declares the "country is steadily but surely forging its way toward a period of industrial prosperity in which it is possible that the labor supply will not equal the demand." Optimism, he believes, pervades every industry in every part of the country.

Economists of the Nation's Capital sound a note of caution to those to whom any optimistic statement is taken at its face value rather than for its meaning. They point out that a labor shortage does not necessarily mean that every man in the country has a job, but that there are jobs enough if every man without a job could get to it. No country at any time in history, has ever succeeded in effecting such perfect distribution of labor that all jobs were always filled without there being any jobs or men left over. Thus at the present time there are States with too many farm hands and States with a crying need for farm hands. There are industries with a forceful demand for skilled laborers which can not be found and trades with skilled laborers who can not find work. It is fundamental and country-wide conditions which the Department of Labor considers, and in summarizing the decrease in unemployment and the coming labor shortage in certain lines, it shows only a national aspect of grave questions. Local conditions may contradict national ones in certain places without prejudice to the accuracy of the statistics as a whole.

With practically every industry in the country taking on more men and with Wall Street and the banking interests registering optimism, it is not difficult to read into predictions of labor shortage a comforting assurance of a coming solid and war-normal prosperity. Such, at least, is the mature judgment of impartial Government experts.

DOLLAR SPENT 27 YEARS AGO RETURNED TO OWNER

Mrs. Torrence Hagerman, Chehalis, Wash., spent a dollar in Lancaster, Mo., 27 years ago.

She marked her initials on it then and religiously scrutinized every dollar that came into her possession since that time.

Her diligence was rewarded when she was handed a dollar at a Montesano, Wash., store recently. It was the same silver money she parted with in Missouri 27 years ago.

Saturday Note.

"Tommy, dear," said the stern mother, as her son came in from playing; "this is bath night, you know." "Then I think," answered the boy, "I'll go out and get a little dirtier."

PLAYING HORSE

(Louisville Herald)

We should walk on all fours instead of on two feet, for nature intended man to be a quadruped. This thrilling suggestion comes from an able authority—Courtire, celebrated French scientist.

Men who have hunted for collar buttons under the bureau will not agree with him. Nor will the father whose young son insists that play horse."

Courtire's suggestion is valuable, however, if for no other reason than the laughs it starts. Anything that takes people's minds off their problems and stops morbid introspection—analysis of self—is a stimulant and a tonic.

That is why so many men, fagged out from the day's work, turn to the newspaper comic pictures before they read page-one news stories.

Evolutionists believe that man once scrambled about "on all fours" like a monkey. What made him get up on his hind legs? Probably it was the discovery that he could walk that way and use his forelegs to carry home an armful of cocoanuts for his family.

In those days human arms must have been as long as the legs, like monkeys you have seen in the circus with their hands reaching below their knees as they stalked about.

Gradually the arms shortened to a more convenient length. Such is the scientific theory—interesting, whether you believe it or not.

Courtire is not the only scientist who thinks we are violating natural laws by not walking like quadrupeds.

Standing up, your stomach and other internal organs sag. Their arrangement indicates that their most natural position is when we are on hands and knees. Possibly this explains our instinctive attempt to brace up our abdomens by corsets, belts and tight trouser bands.

The correct position of the body in walking may be debatable. But this much is certain: When feeling dizzy or ill in any way, nothing beats lying on the back.

A person lying down relieves his internal machinery of the strain that is always present when moving about on the feet. The heart, too, has less work to do in pumping the blood.

Rest and complete relaxation—even for only ten or twenty minutes at a time—often will enable the body to recharge its batteries sufficiently to ward off what might develop into serious illness.

We get ill on our feet. We recover lying down.

First Costly Error.

If we had our life to live over again we believe we could do better in some ways, avoiding the mistake, for instance, of trying to make our wife's relatives feel at home the first time they came to visit us.—Ohio State Journal.

MOTION PICTURE FOR EDUCATION

During the closing hours of the National Educational Association Convention in Boston three actions were taken which may have the utmost importance in furthering the spread of education. By a vote of all delegates which lacked but two of being unanimous, the Towner-Sterling bill, creating a Department of Education, with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet, was endorsed as being the great necessity if educational progress is to receive proper governmental aid in this country.

Mr. Will H. Hays, former Postmaster General and now head of the motion picture industry, offered the co-operation of the movies to the educational world.

"There is already a great demand for pedagogic pictures," Mr. Hays said. "I propose that we jointly study that demand, and that we jointly find ways and means of supplying it. Let a committee be appointed of this association make up of the very best talent within your ranks; let them meet with the great producers of the country and find ways to use our facilities. We ask you to aid us and to let us aid you in the study of the whole problem of the use of the motion picture as a direct pedagogic instrument."

Plans for a world conference on education, to take place in 1923, were offered the convention.

Invitations are being sent to 45 countries to join America in the enterprise. The committee recommended that out of the world conference should come an international education association. The committee also proposed that the world conference discuss a world peace exposition to be held in 1930.

RADIUM LESS IN PRICE AT $120 PER MILLIGRAM

Radium, wonder element, used extensively in the treatment of cancer and in the laboratory of the physician, has decreased in price from 15 to 20 per cent, according to announcements of the principal company extracting the rare mineral from the ore.

About 250 tons of ore are required to yield a single gram of radium. The ore is mined in Colorado and must be shipped across the country to New Jersey for the extracting process. Hence the cost of a gram of radium is a product of the cost of the ore, plus the transportation of 250 tons of mineral earth, plus the process of extraction of the radium.

With the substance increasing in value to humanity every day it is used, physicians and others interested in its employment are wondering why it is not possible to erect an extraction plant in Colorado in order to avoid the need for the long haul of thousands of tons of earth across the country. The entire product of radium for the year could be carried comfortably in a man's pocket; why spend the money for coal and handling of the earth which carries the radium; why not extract it at the mine mouth and transport the finished product.

TRADITIONAL STORY OF GENOA

(Detroit News)

An inscription in the Cathedral of St. Lawrence contains the traditional account of Genoa's foundation by "Janus, the first King of Italy, and descended from the Giants," adding that he was "great-grandson of Noah," and that he founded the city "in the time of Abraham." As a matter of fact, its name is derived not from "Janus," but from the Latin "genus" ("knee"), owing to the shape of the coast, but its antiquity was conclusively proved in 1898 by the discovery of ancient vases of the Fifth Century before Christ, which, if not used by the contemporaries of Abraham, were at least of the same age as the Persian wars in Greece and the early Republic in Rome.

The first mention of the city, however, in Roman history is its destruction by Mago, the Carthaginian General, during the second Punic War, and its refounding by the Romans in 203. One memorial of Roman Genoa still survives in the shape of a bronze tablet, now in the town hall, containing the judgment of Roman arbitrators in a dispute between the city and another place in 117 B. C. Apoclepius accurately described Genoa as "well situated as a port of call for the voyage to Gaul and to Spain," as it still is.

The End.

"I'll never ask another girl to marry me as long as I live," groaned the unhappy fellow. "What! Refused again?" asked his sympathetic friend. "No, accepted, you fool!"

Poet Worthy of Honor.

I think, and think I think rightly, the laurel appointed for triumphant captains doth worthily, of all other learnings, honor the poet's triumph—Sidney.

REAL ESTATE DEALS

The old Walsh distillery property on the North Middletown pike, near Paris, has been sold by Mrs. Robert Goggin, and brothers, Carley and Thos. Wilmeth, to E. F. Spears & Sons, for a private price. The property comprises about twenty-seven acres of land, brick warehouses, an office building, dwelling, railroad switches, etc. It is reported that the purchasers plan extensive improvements, and contemplate using the buildings for bluegrass seed cleaning and storage purposes.

Construction work on the Harris, Speaks & Harris storeroom, at the corner of High and Seventh streets, and the brick business house adjoining, the latter to be occupied by John J. Connelly as a plumbing establishment, is progressing rapidly. Both will soon be completed and ready for occupancy.

One day recently a girl stood up in a street car because her stocking had a hole in the knee.

HERRIN

—Following an illness of about two weeks' duration, Mrs. Sallie T. Herrin, aged about thirty-seven, died at her apartments in the Dow Building at 9:30 o'clock Sunday night.

Mrs. Herrin was a daughter of Thomas H. and Kate Ronan Williams, and was a native of this county. She was the wife of Edward Herrin, of Paris, and a woman of fine character, who had a large circle of friends in the community.

Besides her parents and her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Miss Jessie D. Herrin, and one sister, Miss Lydia Williams, both of Paris.

The funeral will be held at the home of her parents, at 1829 South Main street, at three o'clock, this (Tuesday) afternoon, with services conducted by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church. The interment will follow on the family lot in the Paris Cemetery.

The pall-bearers will be W. W. Swartz, Ben Leach, Cleary Fightmaster, James Estes, Dr. J. W. Wallingford, O. H. Rice.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

PROMINENT HORSEMAN SUS-TAINS PARALYTIC STROKE

Joseph Hawkins, prominent in the turf world as a successful breeder and handler of thoroughbreds, suffered a stroke of paralysis at La-tonia last week, while superintending shipping some horses. He was removed to the Seaton Hospital, in Cincinnati, where he is reported as doing very nicely.

Mr. Hawkins is a former resident of Bourbon county, having for many years resided on the old Hawkins farm near Centerville. He has a host of friends in Bourbon county, who hope he will pull through all right.

ASK AID FROM PAPERS

The State Federation of Women's Clubs will ask the co-operation of the press of Kentucky in the plans for international disarmament. The newspapers will be asked to present editorials in favor of disarmament, and plans made by the National Council for Reduction of Armament, together with plans of Salman Levinson, of Chicago, and the late Senator P. C. Knox for the outlawing of war, will be sent to the newspapers as material for their articles on the subject.

—The following marriage licenses have been issued by County Clerk Pearce Paton: Howard Davis and Ethel Tucker, both of Grant county; Sterling King and Miss Viola Stewart, both of North Middletown; Ira D. Thompson, Jr., of Paris, and Miss Bettie McCann Perry, of Richmond. All were married yesterday afternoon by Rev. W. E. Ellis, at his home on Main street.

TIPTON—BROADDUS

—Thomas R. Tipton, aged twenty-five, farmer, of Union City, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Tipton, and Miss Callena Broaddus, twenty-five, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Broaddus, of Moberley, Ky., secured marriage license in Paris, Saturday afternoon, and were married shortly after at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church.

LAWRENCE—McCOWAN

—Miss Mabel Lawrence and Wenburg McCowan, both of Carlisle, were married at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church. The bride's father, John Lawrence, of Carlisle, witnessed the ceremony. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCowan, of Carlisle.

PERRY—THOMPSON

—At his residence, in this city, at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church, performed the ceremony uniting in marriage Bettie McCann Perry, of Richmond, and Mrs. Ira D. Thompson, Jr., of Paris.

The bride is one of the handsome young women of Richmond, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Gess Perry. For two years she attended Hamilton College, in Lexington, where she specialized in dramatic interpretation, in which she has an exceptional talent. She is a member of the Kappa Delta Sigma fraternity. She has been a frequent visitor in Paris, as guest of Miss Elmetta Hinton, at her home on Pleasant street. Mr. Thompson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Thompson, Sr., of Paris, and is to be associated in business with his father as a member of the Somerset Stave & Lumber Company, at Somerset.

Following a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will return to Paris, where they will be at the home of the groom's parents for a time.

TAX NOTICE

BUYS FINE YEARLING

The racing firm of Kohn & Theis, of Louisville, recently purchased through the agency of Robert C. Frakes, former Parisian, three fine thoroughbred yearlings. Mr. Frakes conducted negotiations which resulted in the purchase of a bay colt by McGhee out of Ida Harrison, from the Charles Moore estate; from Rhodes Ectill, a bay filly by Hessian out of Countess Wilmeth by Peter Quine, and from James L. Carrick, of Georgetown, a bay colt by Dick Finnell, out of Idle Day, by Peep O'Day.

BOURBON FARM CONDITIONS

The drought which has prevailed throughout this section for nearly two months has been broken by light rains, hardly enough to relieve the situation, but giving promise of more to come. Rain is badly needed in all sections. Crops were slightly benefitted by a rain which fell Sunday night. It was the first time in several weeks that the country has been favored with a rain that promised some good.

In those sections where the rain fell the crops will be tided over for a few days longer. Tobacco is in fairly good shape, and can stand the dry spell much longer than the corn. Corn is well-developed in the stalk, and with enough rain in the near future should turn out well in the ear. Gardeners report the best tomato crop in the county for many years.

Pastures are dried up, but are still being used for grazing. The gardens are suffering from the combined effects of heat and lack of moisture. Fruit is reported in abundance in most sections. Apples, peaches and plums are to be had at moderate prices.

A number of Bourbon county farmers are preparing to treat their soils this winter with ground limestone, and have already placed their orders for this valuable soil enriching element. Among those who have already spread the limestone on their farms are Jonas Weil, A. B. Hancock, Wm. Jones, Dr. D. S. Henry, Sam Clay, Edward F. Simms and Redmon Talbott.

EARLY FALL PROBABLE

Observers say all signs point to an early fall. It is noted that fruits and vegetables are ripening two weeks to a month earlier this season than usual. Flowers, such as golden glow, dahlias and many others which rarely bloom before late in August are now in bloom. It is also noted that many weeds have matured, which all goes to show, according to the observant ones, that we will have a very early fall.

Who wants to laugh and grow fat during the hot summer months?

LODGE NOTES

The membership of the Knights of Columbus in the United States was 762,400 on June 30, an increase of 24,250 in a year, according to a report prepared by Supreme Secretary William G. McGinley, which will be submitted at the Supreme Council session in Atlantic City, this week.

SPECIAL TAX STAMPS

Special federal tax stamps for pool and billiard tables, ball parks, picture shows, soda fountains, oleomargarines, automobiles for hire and other articles must be obtained before July 31 to avoid a delinquent penalty, it was announced at the Lexington office of the internal revenue department. July 31 is also the last day for filing capital stock returns and foreign corporation returns, it was said.
